Transfer Guide | 2027

We acknowledge

The University of Guelph–Humber is located within the traditional and treaty lands of the Mississaugas of the Credit. Known as Adoobiigok, the “Place of the Alders” in the Michi Saagiig language, the region is uniquely situated along the Humber River Watershed, which historically provided an integral connection for Anishinaabe, Haudenosaunee, and Wendat peoples between the Ontario lakeshore and the Lake Simcoe/Georgian Bay regions. Now home to people of numerous nations, Adoobiigok continues to provide a vital source of interconnection for all.

Take Your Next Step

Transfer to the University of Guelph-Humber (U of GH) to focus on your field, get personal attention in class, and increased interaction with peers and instructors.

Our full-time and part-time degree programs can move you ahead with your career goals, whether you are looking to explore new areas of study, forge a path to graduate studies, or advance your employment options.

5 Reasons to Transfer to U of GH

1. Transfer credit assessment provided at the point of offer so you know exactly what courses you need to complete for your degree
2. Generous Transfer Entrance Scholarship and Part-Time Transfer Entrance Scholarship awards
3. Flexible learning formats
4. 100 to 750 placement hours*
5. Toronto campus offers close proximity to work placement opportunities, alongside easy transit and commute options

Once you apply, we'll assess your academic history for transfer credit toward your degree so you'll know at the time of offer exactly how much transfer credit you'll receive on your degree pathway.

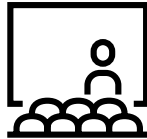

*Placement hours vary by program and some transfer credit may fulfil the degree placement requirements.

Real-World Experience

It's what we do best; it's what has defined us for 25 years

U of GH was the first university in Ontario to recognize that combining academic excellence with practical, applied learning creates graduates who are ready to make an impact from day one. Every program combines disciplinary knowledge with work-integrated learning (WIL). At U of GH, experience isn't optional; it's built into your degree.

Through WIL, learning becomes more than academic studies. You get hands-on experience by applying what you learn in real workplaces and realistic simulations. This helps you build a strong understanding of your field, explore career options, build networks, and gain relevant experience, while our industry and community partners benefit from skilled, forward-thinking students.

Whether you enter the workforce or pursue graduate studies, WIL prepares you to move forward with confidence, ready to contribute.

Types of Work-Integrated Learning at U of GH

- Practice-based placements (clinical placements, field placements/experience, work placements/experience)
- Structured work terms (co-op)
- Work study
- Volunteer experiences
- Community-, industry-, and client-based learning projects
- Research
- Entrepreneurship

At Guelph-Humber, you graduate ready: with real-world experience, clear career direction, strong professional networks, and the confidence to build meaningful careers or pursue graduate and professional programs. Year after year, our graduates demonstrate these outcomes through their success.

I was on the fence about completing either a master's or PhD post undergrad, but [my placement with] UHN's Krembil Brain Institute really solidified that decision for me. It has also reignited my interest in neurodegenerative diseases."

Help make humanity better.

Go beyond lectures and apply psychology in real-world contexts throughout your degree. You will learn from instructors who actively work with clients to bring current practice into your courses. Student-faculty relationships are genuine and reflect the passion of instructors as teachers and mentors.

You'll examine processes and factors that shape who we become through the study of cognition, emotion, and mental health. In thesis courses, you work one-on-one with a thesis advisor to complete primary research.

Graduate with at least 100 hours of workplace experience.

You may choose to specialize in one of three areas:

- Psychology of Business
- Psychological Data Analytics
- Sports Psychology

By combining science, empathy, and critical thinking, you develop skills to confidently pursue diverse career paths or graduate studies and make a lasting impact.
