Finding Full Text Online

Finding full text for an article from a citation is not difficult. This guide shows you how to locate full text using the eJournals menu.

1. On the UofGH Library homepage select the eJournals tab. Choose the library collection you wish to search. Start with Guelph's collection, since it is larger than Humber's.

2. Enter the journal title in the title search box and click Search. Make sure you're entering the journal title, not the article title. Hint: in APA references, Journal Title is in italics.

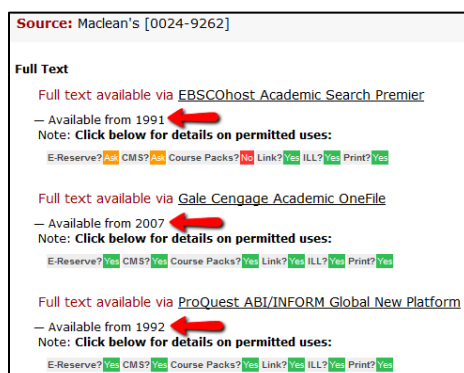

3. Note that different databases provide full text for different date ranges. Choose the database that includes the publication date for your article.

Available in an alternative format on request.

Finding Full Text Online

4. In the database, locate the list of volumes and issues. Navigate to the issue that contains your article.

All Issues
+ Aug 2014
-- Jul 2014
    Vol. 127 Issue 29 - 7/28/2014
    Vol. 127 Issue 28 - 7/21/2014
    Vol. 127 Issue 27 - 7/14/2014
    Vol. 127 Issue 25/26 - 7/7/2014

Hint: Look for links labeled All Issues or Archive.

5. Locate the article inside the issue. Click to access a PDF or HTML full text version of the article.

21. INSIDE NORTH KOREA.
By: BUCK, GENNA. Maclean's. 7/28/2014, Vol. 127 Issue 29, p46-49. 4p. 13 Color Photographs.
Subjects: KOREA (North) -- Social conditions -- 21st century; GUTTENFELDER, David

Periodical   HTML Full Text

If you're having trouble accessing full text, contact UofGH Library Services for assistance.

If an item is not available from our library collections, order using the RACER interlibrary loan service.