

Transfer Guide Profile: Prince Khan_Nov 4 2022_Described_Transcript

Graphic [00:00:11] Tell us about your career.

[Graphic introduction: "A Conversation with Alumna Prince K." with the image of man while the melody music plays]

[Next graphic slide of the first question]

[Starts with the video clip of Prince wearing blue shirt]

Prince Khan [00:00:11] I currently work for the Halton Region Small Business Center, and what I do is I support small businesses with sales, marketing, operations, finance and more. And our mandate is really to support economic development in the entire community.

[Next graphic slide of the question]

[Prince talks about the career that makes him excited about]

Graphic [00:00:27] What excites you about this field?

Prince Khan [00:00:27] What excites me the most is the fact that I'm able to support my clients in getting their business up and running and actually growing their business. My clients, when they start generating revenue and actually making a solid business plan, they come back to me and thank me. They really look for my support in their future growth. So that's what I really love about the career I'm currently in right now.

[Next graphic slide of the question]

[Prince talks about his experience as transfer student]

Graphic [00:00:50] Tell us about your experience as a transfer student.

Prince Khan [00:00:50] So I am a transfer student and I transferred to Guelph-Humber in 2012. And the reason why I came to Guelph-Humber is because I really found the dual degree in diploma really fascinating and I wanted to get a business degree, but also wanted to specialize in something else aside from just finance to really grow on my current skill set in the financial sector. So I took the area of emphasis and management and that really allowed me to cultivate the knowledge that I had on the financial sector, but also being able to lead and organize teams in the current role that I do today.

[Next graphic slide of the question]

[Prince talks about his positive experience with his program]

Graphic [00:01:24] Tell us about your program.

Prince Khan [00:01:24] What I loved about the business program is that all the classes were relatively small, so I got to really connect with all the students as well as the professors, and I didn't want to be just another number. And the best part of Guelph-Humber is it's a small-knit community and you're going to love it here.

[Next graphic slide of the question]

[Prince talks about his teaching at the University of Guelph-Humber]

Graphic [00:01:41] Tell us about your experience teaching at the university.

Prince Khan [00:01:41] In addition to working at the whole region as a business consultant, I also work at the University of Guelph-Humber as one of the professors here, and I teach a course on entrepreneurial studies. And what I do is I help students get support on how to start and validate an idea and get that business idea up and running. So I do that through videos, guest speakers and lecturing students on what it really means to succeed as an entrepreneur and what it really takes to become successful. And I love that about my job. And that's why I come back to teach at the University of Guelph-Humber.

[Last graphic slide of the question]

[Prince gives the advice about the University of Guelph-Humber]

Graphic [00:02:11] Advice for future students?

Prince Khan [00:02:11] To any future students are interested in joining the Guelph-Humber community. We welcome you. It's an amazing school. You won't regret it. Smaller class sizes. More personalized approaches to teaching. Getting a dual degree diploma. It's something that not a lot of other universities offer. Guelph-Humber is a stand-alone institution that's really provided me the opportunity to get where I am today. And you can get there too. So make sure you join the Guelph-Humber.

[Ends with the video clip of Prince Khan]

[The logo of the University of Guelph-Humber appears and disappears]