

Hello! I'm Harman, a First Year Experience Leader in the Business program.

It's day 4 of Orientation Week. Thursday features program sessions for students in the Business program and Psychology program, plus an important presentation on academic integrity.

Today is the last day of the on-campus Orientation experience, so if you haven't been able to join us in person yet, now is your chance! Register by clicking the red "Register" button below. Only students that have completed the registration form can attend the in-person activities.

See you soon. Bye!
